FOREWORD

What share of single unmarried parent benefits is paid out to Birkirkara residents? How much do Żabbar residents receive by way of unemployment benefits? Which locality has the most pensioners per 1,000 population? What share of child benefits goes to people living in Qormi? And how do sickness benefits received by Mosta beneficiaries rate when compared to the national average?

Answers to these pertinent, pressing questions, and more, may be deduced from figures found in this publication.

For the first time ever, the National Statistics Office is publishing an analysis of social security benefits by locality. Although this detail was available to the relevant policy makers, it was never accessible to the public at large.

The scope of this publication is not to introduce some sort of competitive sense among localities, but to bring to the fore realities which exist in our cities, towns and villages. One objective is to provide a useful tool to planners and decision makers, at both local and national levels, that they may be enabled to devise ways of addressing these realities and to design measures for dealing with them.

We believe this publication constitutes a rich data source for mayors and councillors, researchers and analysts - everyone stands to gain from the correct interpretation of the figures being presented in this locality approach to social security benefits. The issue of social benefits highlights real-life situations and these are direct indicators of the social fabric of specific localities. The material in this publication may, therefore, come as a surprise for some, and as a statement of fact for others.

Particular care has been taken to conceal expenditure figures wherever individuals could be identified on a locality basis. In this case, data were aggregated to district level.

My appreciation goes to Mark Galea and Clyde Caruana for compiling the information and harnessing it into this interesting publication.

COMMENTARY

This publication illustrates the trends characterising the distribution of social security benefits over a nine-year period (2000-2008) in each one of the 68 localities comprising Malta and Gozo. There were 44 social benefit schemes throughout this period. Two social benefit schemes did not exist in 2000, (namely Widow's Re-marriage Grant [WRG] and Foster Child Allowance [FCA]) and the Children's Allowance Flat Rate (CAFR) was introduced as from 2008. Another two benefits, namely Old Age Allowance (OAA) and Social Assistance Allowance (SAA), were discontinued in 2004.

It is pertinent to note that for each social benefit referred to in this publication, there was an analysis indicating which region was above or below the national average in terms of beneficiaries, as well as the gross amount of expenditure being incurred in respect of its beneficiaries.

The intention underlying the three reference years (2000, 2004 and 2008) is to take the benefit of a relatively long time span in order to observe trends in the beneficiaries' population.

The composition of social benefits distribution in this study made it possible for regions to be categorised according to their demographic, social and economic status. For example, the Southern Harbour region was the area which benefitted most from Children's Allowance (CA) in 2008. When comparing the number of beneficiaries to the resident population this amounted to 7.6 per cent. Meanwhile, the Western region experienced the greatest percentage decrease (-49.1 per cent) in the number of such beneficiaries from 2000 to 2008, and it was the region with the lowest number of CA recipients. Other localities, such as Mdina and Gudja, had the largest percentage declines in Children's Allowance beneficiaries (with -70.0 per cent and -62.1 per cent respectively) whereas San Pawl il-Baħar experienced the smallest decline (-5.1 per cent) in this respect. Only the locality of Xgħajra (+6.6 per cent) had an increase in the number of parents claiming such benefits. In percentage terms (beneficiaries to population), Xgħajra, Bormla and Isla were the localities which benefitted most from Children's Allowance while Mdina, Sliema and Swieqi had the lowest number of beneficiaries as a percentage of their local population.

In 2008 a Children's Allowance Flat Rate (CAFR) was introduced for those families which exceed the means-test limit on income. The Western region benefitted most from this measure, as the number of beneficiaries under the new scheme exceeded those under the one provided by a means test. Meanwhile, the localities in the Southern Harbour area were the least to benefit from such a measure. Pembroke, Attard and Mtarfa were the localities to benefit most whereas Bormla, Marsa and Birgu benefitted negligibly. When considering both benefits (CA and CAFR) the localities with the highest percentage of beneficiaries were Xgħajra (17.8 per cent), Pembroke (17.8 per cent) and Marsascalea (14.6 per cent). The lowest rate of CA and CAFR beneficiaries was reported in Sliema (6.0 per cent), Mdina (6.4 per cent) and Ta' Xbiex (6.6 per cent).

Similar observations in relation to the composition of social benefits distribution, regions and social and economical status could also be made among the retired population. The Southern Harbour region in 2008, when compared to 2000, remained the area with the highest number of people on retirement benefits, 124.1 persons (per 1,000 population) in 2008 and 98.8 persons (per 1,000 population) in 2000. Nonetheless, the largest increase of retired persons was registered in the Northern Harbour region, where the number of beneficiaries increased by 26.3 persons per 1,000 population to 121.1 persons per 1,000 population in 2008. The Northern region remains the region with the lowest number of retirement claimants, 86.0 beneficiaries per 1,000 population. Meanwhile, the highest number of pensioners in 2000 was located in Sliema, with 172 persons per 1,000 population. By 2008, Mdina surpassed Sliema as the locality with the highest number of people claiming retirement benefits – 308 and 181.8 beneficiaries per 1,000 population respectively. During the period under review Pembroke remained the locality with the least number of retirement beneficiaries. In fact, in 2008, these made up only 41.2 beneficiaries per 1,000 population.

Another indicative benefit shown in this study was the invalidity benefit. The latter was mostly claimed by Gozitans. The region of Gozo and Comino had the highest rate of invalidity beneficiaries during the period under review – 29.4 beneficiaries per 1,000 population in 2000 and 36.7 beneficiaries per 1,000 population in 2008. This region also experienced the largest increase in the number of beneficiaries, with 7.3 beneficiaries per 1,000 population. The Northern Harbour area was the region with the lowest number of beneficiaries both in 2000 and 2008; these stood at 11.9 and 15.8 beneficiaries per 1,000 population respectively. In 2008, Għasri (51.2 beneficiaries per 1,000 population) had the highest number of invalidity claimants, more than eight times as much as Swieqi (6.3 beneficiaries per 1,000 population).

Unlike the invalidity benefits case, Gozo and Comino reported the lowest number of claimants when it came to the 'single unmarried parents' benefit. In fact there were 2.6 beneficiaries per 1,000 population in 2008. Yet this still represented a seven-fold increase when compared to what was reported in 2000. In spite of this, the highest number of single unmarried parents taking benefits over the past nine years per 1,000 population was registered in Bormla with 24.2 beneficiaries, followed by Isla (21.0 beneficiaries) and Xgħajra (20.7 beneficiaries). In absolute terms, for 2008, the highest number of recipients was reported in Birkirkara with 150 beneficiaries, Bormla with 136 beneficiaries and Valletta with 127 beneficiaries. Mdina was the only locality where there were no single unmarried parents claiming benefits, while Xewkija had the lowest rate of single unmarried parents' benefit beneficiaries – only 1.0 beneficiary per 1,000 population.

The Supplementary Assistance, a top-up income given to low-income families against means testing, was also included in this study. The general trend observed in the period under review was a decline of Supplementary Assistance beneficiaries across all regions. When compared to 2000, in 2008 only 12 of 68 localities saw an increase in the number of beneficiaries per 1,000 population. Pietà registered the largest increase in the number of beneficiaries, with 21.7 beneficiaries per 1,000 population; Għasri had the largest decrease in the number of beneficiaries, with some 82.9 per 1,000 population. The Southern Harbour region remains the area with the highest number of claimants – 101.0 beneficiaries per 1,000 population whereas the lowest rate was registered in the Northern region with less than half the number of the Southern Harbour area – 43.4 beneficiaries per 1,000 population.

As an overall final observation, one can note that in 2008 almost 35.4 per cent of the total population received some form of social benefit. The Southern Harbour region and Gozo and Comino had a higher percentage of the share of total beneficiaries than their share to the total population. The actual rate of beneficiaries in the Southern Harbour region and in Gozo and Comino was 12 per cent and 5 per cent respectively, higher than the expected number of beneficiaries per 1,000 population. Valletta, as a locality, had the highest ratio of beneficiaries compared to its population – 47.8 per cent, more than the 35 per cent of the national average. On the other hand, Swieqi had the lowest rate of beneficiaries – 22.9 per cent of its population, considerably below the national average. In terms of expenditure, Sliema beneficiaries were the most costly with €5,796 per beneficiary, while Pembroke beneficiaries were the most economical with €2,816 per beneficiary. The expenditure on beneficiaries residing in the Northern Harbour and Southern Harbour region was higher than national average expenditure per beneficiary, by €414 and €406 respectively.

Methodology

Actual Beneficiaries: The actual number of beneficiaries for a particular social benefit in a reference year, for a particular locality or region. It is also represented as per 1,000 of population.

Actual Beneficiaries per 1,000 population = $(1,000 * \text{Number of Beneficiaries}_{\text{Region or Locality}}) / \text{Total Population}_{\text{Region or Locality}}$

Expected Beneficiaries: The expected number of beneficiaries for a particular social benefit in a reference year, for a particular locality or region. The expected number is calculated using the national average number of beneficiaries.

National Average Number of Beneficiaries = $(\text{Number of Benefit Beneficiaries} / \text{Total Population})$

Expected Beneficiaries per Locality or Region = $(\text{National Average Number of Beneficiaries} * \text{Population}_{\text{Region or Locality}})$.

Ratio of Actual/Expected: This ratio shows whether the locality or region is below or above the average number of national beneficiaries. A ratio above 1 indicates that the region or locality has a higher number of beneficiaries than the national average. A ratio below 1 indicates that the region or locality has a lower number of beneficiaries than the national average. The ratio can be calculated by dividing the Actual Number of Beneficiaries by the Expected Number of Beneficiaries.

Percentage Share of Beneficiaries: The number of beneficiaries residing in a locality as a percentage of total beneficiaries. A person who receives more than one benefit is counted once. This is only applicable for the last table in this publication.

Population: The total number of persons living in the Maltese Islands.

Expenditure: The amount of expenditure incurred on a particular benefit accruing to particular region (beneficiaries residing abroad are not included).

Total Expenditure: The total amount of expenditure covering all social benefits plus the contributory and non-contributory bonus accruing to a particular locality (beneficiaries residing abroad are not included).

Expenditure per Beneficiary: The amount of expenditure incurred per locality divided by the number of unique beneficiaries residing in that locality.

Notes:

- i. Beneficiaries are grouped according to their ID number. If a person received a particular benefit more than once in a calendar year, the records show one beneficiary.
- ii. Numbers of beneficiaries do not include Maltese persons living abroad.
- iii. Expenditure amounts for one person in a region are not shown.
- iv. The total benefits expenditure does not match with the Treasury's Departmental Accounting System (DAS) as the source used throughout this publication is the System for the Administration of Social Benefits held by the Department of Social Security.
- v. The SAA and OAA benefits were not listed because they ceased to exist in 2004.
